FRISCO FIRE OUT

Work of Relief is Being Rapidly Pushed.

NO DANGER OF FAMINE

Bringing Order Out of Chaos Throughout the Burned District Next Important Move.

ARRANGING THE WATER SUPPLY.

San Francisco, April 23.—Had it not been for the sight of the rude altar set up in the open air wherever San Francisco's homeless thousands were camped, one would have some difficulty in finding any of the peaceful associations of the Sabbath in the city Sunday. Everywhere throughout the burned, as well as the remaining section of the city, there was the greatest activity. Streets were being cleared of debris, laborers were repairing broken water pipes, sewers and gas mains, electricians everywhere were seeking to entangle the confusion of wires—in fact San Francisco was in the first stages of its regeneration.

PEOPLE WELL PROVIDED FOR.

There were no hungry people Sunday night, the gaunt spectre of starvation has been banished by the magnificent response of the people of California in particular, and by the entire nation in general to the appeals that went out for assistance. Food by the carload and boatload poured into Oakland Saturday night and Sunday, in sufficient quantities to overwhelm the committee which has in charge its distribution.

So great was the volume of foodstuffs brought into the general depot at Oakland Mole that the general committee made an appeal for skilled labor in the handling of these supplies.

Grocers, butchers and commission men have been requested to secure men who are familiar in the handling of foodstuffs in order that the distribution at the scores of stations established might go on without confusion.

SUBSTANTIAL RATIONS DISTRIBUTED.

The homeless people are no longer obliged to subsist upon bread and canned stuff entirely, as they had been during the previous days of their trying experience, but were Sunday given hot coffee, canned meats and even cakes and oranges. Oranges have come in plentiful supply from Southern California and the sight of Califarnia's famous product was everywhere hailed with delight.

It must not be understood by the charitable people of the country that there is a surplus of food for the sufferers. While the supply is abundant at this time, it is well for the public to remember that the homeless thousands must be fed and cared for by the organized relief committees for an indefinite period.

It is desired therefore that contributions be continued everywhere until the people who have been rendered helpless and destitute by the city's misfortune can care for themselves.

BODIES BURNED.

San Francisco, April 23.—Two hundred bodies found in the Protero district, south of Shannon street, in the vicinity of the Union Iron Works, were cremated at the Six Mile House, Saturday by order of Coroner Walsh. This information was obtained at the Board of Health headquarters Sunday. So many dead were found in this limited area that cremation was deemed absolutely necessary to prevent disease. The names of some of the dead were learned, but in the majority of cases identification was impossible owing to the mutilation of the features.

SYSTEMATIC SEARCH FOR BODIES.

A systematic search for bodies of the victims of the earthquake and fire was made Sunday by Coroner and the State Board of Health inspectors. The city has been divided into sanitary districts, and squads of searchers have been sent out to every quarter. The ruins of the burned buildings in the business and the old resident section have sufficiently cooled to make the search possible.

Another Earthquake.

New York, April 23.—A slight earthquake occurred at Portland Oregon this morning.

ARRANGING FOR DEDICATION OF MONUMENT.

Meeting Held in the Court House Tuesday Night.

A public meeting of the citizens of Centre county was held in the court house Tuesday evening, at which a fair sized audience was present, to make arrangements for the unveiling and dedication of the soldiers' monument and Curtin memorial here on Friday, June 8. It is purposed to make this one of the biggest days ever known in Bellefonte. Governor Pennypacker has signified his intention of being present with his staff and many National Guard officers will be here.

It is the intention to have at least one regiment of the National Guard present, with the Sheridan Troop, and one battery of artillery. The Soldiers' Orphans' "Sixteeners" will be invited as a body, while every G. A. R. Post in Centre county and the surrounding towns will be in attendance.

Adjutant General Thomas J. Stewart has been invited to make the dedicatory address for the soldiers' monument proper, and A. K. McClure, of Philadelphia, will make the address for the Curtin memorial.

The meeting was presided over by Hammond Sechler and stirring addresses were made by Hon. John G. Love, Wm. T. Heinle, H. S. Taylor, D. F. Fortney, James P. Coburn, S. B. Miller and others.

Mr. James Harris chairman of the finance committee read his report which showed that six thousand five hundred dollars of the required amount was yet needed to complete the monument, of this amount fifteen hundred dollars has already been pledged. A petition signed by the citizens of the town was read and will be presented before the grand jurors this afternoon urging the County Commissioner to donate the balance.

Chewed Cash With Tobacco.

Concealing four $5 bills that he had stolen in a ponderous chew of tobacco a stranger recently successfully withstood a rigid search by Chief of Police, Munday of Emporium but his eagerness for a glass of beer, after being discharged from custody, caused his downfall. The thief, who refuses to divulge his name, went into a confectionary store in Emporium and while Miss Margaret Cummings, the clerk, was in another part of the room filling his order he stole $20 from her purse, which had been left lying within reach.

Miss Cummings discovered the loss before the man could leave, and locking the door telephoned for Policeman Munday.

The stranger submitted to a search without protest, even to the removal of his shoes, but the money was not found. He was set free, and in less than an hour, in a near-by saloon, tendered a five-dollar bill in payment for a glass of beer. The money was badly crumpled and reeked of tobacco. The man was rearrested, and the rest of the stolen money was found on him.

He had stuffed the bills into his mouth and mixed the mass with a "chew" of tobacco.

Death of Harvey Benner,

Mr. Harvey Benner one of our town's oldest citizens passed away Saturday morning after one years patient suffering with brights disease, at the Benner home on High street.

He was the son of J. Matlack Benner and his wife Anne E., and was born October 4th, seventy eight years ago, in the same room in which Saturday morning 4.30 o'clock he passed to his eternal reward. He is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Carecadden, Misses Sara and Delinda Benner.

The funeral took place from the house Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. A. M. Schmidt officiating. Interment in the Union cemetery.

Remembered the Text.

A little Topeka girl came home from church the other day and was asked what the minister's text was. "I know it all right," she asserted. "Well, repeat it," her questioner demanded. "Don't be afraid and I will get you a bedquilt," was the astonishing answer. Investigation proved that the central thought of the sermon had been, "Fear not, and I will send you a comforter."—Kansas City Journal.

Men and Pianos.

"Pianos," said Paderewski, throwing back his hair, "are either square, upright or grand. It is a pity this cannot be said of men.

SAN FRANCISCO ARISES AGAIN

The Homeless Thousands Are Being Sheltered and Fed.

THE TOTTERING WALLS

Health Conditions Satisfactory. Although Cases of Illness Have Increased,

STRANGE SITUATION AT THE CAMPS

San Francisco, April 24.—The new San Francisco that will arise from the ashes of the old, Monday was in its first stages of rebuilding. After five days of confusion and almost superhuman effort on the part of citizens of California's metropolis, the great tasks of sheltering, feeding and otherwise caring for the homeless thousands, complete order had been established and attention turned to the future.

Throughout the great business quarter where the devastation by fire was the most complete, dangerous walls were razed, buildings that had not been disintegrated by fire were inspected with a view of re-occupancy and ground was cleared for the immediate construction of buildings in which to resume business at the earliest possible time.

Confidence has been restored. The assurance of insurance companies, the measures taken by the financial institutions, the prompt and reassuring words that have reached the business men of San Francisco from eastern financial centres, all these things have dispelled the feeling of uncertainty.

The generally encouraging situation temporally suffered a setback early Monday because of a chilling rain which fell in the late hours of Monday night and during the forenoon on the thousands protected only by canvas coverings and even less impervious shelterings. While the rain caused considerable suffering for the time being, conditions were quickly ameliorated by the prompt action of every relief committee as well as by the voluntary acts of householders.

Homeless people were fed Monday in a systematic manner. From the water front, where boat loads of provisions docked, there was an endless procession of carts and drays carrying food to the scores of sub-stations established throughout the city and the parks. At these stations food and drink, comprising bread, prepared meats and canned goods, milk and a limited amount of hot coffee, and even fruit, were served to all those who applied.

Large supplies of blankets, tentings and other material, to provide covering for those who have been scantily supplied, are reaching the supply station rapidly. Barracks have been completed at several points and in these many people have found comfort and shelter against the inclemencies of the weather. The situation in the congested camps, such as Golden Gate park and the various public squares throughout the city, has been considerably relieved by the departure of many people for points on the other side of the bay. While the number of people leaving the city is nothing like the vast crowds that packed the ferry boats during the two days, following the earthquake, the number was sufficiently large to satisfy the relief committee that its task will become less difficult day by day.

General health conditions are satisfactory. While the number of cases at the various hospitals has increased each day, sickness is mostly due to exposure and worry. The most encouraging feature is the absence of anything like contagion or an epidemic of disease of any nature whatever. The somewhat unsatisfactory sanitary arrangements in the various camps, the lack of a variety in diet and the exposed situation of so many people necessarily develops ailments, and in some places there have been a few cases of such diseases as measles and chickenpox, but probably not more than would develop under ordinary circumstances in a large city. The primary causes of disease are removed as fast as possible.

A Town Without Cats.

James H. Nally, a salesman for a New York shoe house, had trouble about sleeping at the Browne hotel at Denver the other night. In the morning he sought the chief clerk, C. H. Churchill, and registered a complaint.

"A cat in the alley across the street kept me awake," said Mr. Nally. "You'll either have to guarantee that the cats will be kept out of that alley to-night or change my room. I must have sleep or I cannot work."

Clerk Churchill smiled.

"That's the first complaint of its kind I ever had here," he said. "There are comparatively few cats in Denver, but if you would live absolutely without any chance of being awakened by cats you should move up to Leadville."

"Leadville? Why?" asked Nally.

"Because," replied the clerk. "Leadville has no cats. They cannot live there. Too much altitude they say around there."

Leadville probably hasn't a single cat. Cats have been taken there many times, but they have invariably succumbed to the effects of the high altitude. Leadville is 11,400 feet above sea level.

The cats that have been taken to Leadville have all died of a form of pneumonia. At first they enjoy the air, or seem to, but they gradually become weak and finally catch cold. Its nine lives then avail the cat nothing. All the lives go out at once.—New York Sun.

CEREMONY IMPRESSIVE.

ANNAPOLIS CROWDED.

President Roosevelt and Many Other Distinguished Persons In Attendance.

A GREAT NUMBER OF ADDRESSES MADE

Annapolis, Md., April 25.—Reverently attended by the official head of the nation he loved and served so well, by the ambassadorial representative of the land in which he died, by the Chief Executive of the state beneath whose sod his bones will find their final rest, by naval representatives of the United States and France, and by thousands of the men and women of the country whose first Admiral he was, the remains of John Paul Jones were Tuesday given sepulture in the crypt beneath the grand marble stairway of Bancroft Hall, there to rest until the completion of the chapel in which they are to be deposited when a place therein shall have been prepared for them.

It was a day that will long be remembered in Annapolis. Crowds such as the ancient capital of Maryland has not known for many years, if ever before, lined the streets and stood expectantly about the railroad station long before the train bearing President Roosevelt, Mrs. Roosevelt, members of the Cabinet, the French Ambassador and Madame Jusserand, and a large number of distinguished naval officers and civil dignitaries, was expected. Nearly three-quarters of an hour behind schedule time the train entered the station, and President Roosevelt emerged, accompanied by Admiral Sands and followed by the other members of the Presidential party.

An elaborate luncheon was given by Admiral Sands, at which there were about 150 guests, preceded the formal exercises of the day.

Early Tuesday morning the casket containing the remains of the long-dead Admiral had been removed from the temporary vault in which they have rested since being brought from France and deposited in the new armory of the Naval Academy.

From the ships in the bay came more than 1,500 sailors and marines, two hundred of the former being from the French vessels. They were formed into long lanes of brawney men, lining the route to the armory taken by President Roosevelt and the other dignitaries.

When the President entered the armory it was to face ten thousand standing cheering men and women.

Following President Roosevelt addresses were delivered by Ambassador Jusserand of France; General Horace Porter, Governor Warfield, of Maryland, and Secretary Bonaparte.

After the addresses the audience rose and remained standing while body bearers, selected from among the petty officers of the United States and French warships, lifted the casket and bore it from the armory.

Washington, April 25.—President Roosevelt Tuesday sent the following cablegram to President Fallieres, of France:

"The White House, Washington, April 24, 1906.—To the President of France: On the occasion of the formal reception at Annapolis of the body of John Paul Jones, I wish to thank you and through you the great French nation, for its distinguished courtesy in connection with this event, a courtesy of a kind which serves to keep even more vividly before us the invaluable aid rendered by France to this country at what was well nigh the most critical period of its history. France holds a private place in the hearts of the American people and on behalf of that people I wish all success, prosperity and happiness to the mighty republic over which you preside.

April Term of Court.

The regular term of April Court convened Monday morning at ten o'clock with Hon. Ellis L. Orvis, President Judge on the bench.

Prothonotary Kimport and Register Tuten were in their respective places.

W. H. Faries Esq., of Sunbury is acting official court stenographer owing to the inability of G. S. Burrows to be here.

The first business before the Court was the swearing in of the members of the grand jury by the Prothonotary. Alexander McCoy of Potter township was appointed foreman by His Honor. Judge Orvis then explained fully the secrecy of what would take place in the Grand Jury room, as well as explained the duties of that body of men as Grand Jurors.

The other part of the morning session was taken up in the presentation of motions and petitions by the several members of the Bar and in the hearing of quarterly reports of the Constables of boroughs and townships in the county.

The list of criminal cases for trial during the week are few and of little importance. In addition to the criminal list there are seven civil cases in the nature of appeals from judgments rendered by the Justice of the Peace to be disposed of by the court.

For the week of court beginning April 30, there are twenty one cases on the list for trial and for the "special" week beginning Monday May 7 there are sixteen cases to be disposed of.

Just before the close of the court at the morning session the Judge received a telegram announcing the serious illness with diphtheria of his daughter, who is in Philadelphia. He was compelled to leave on the 1:25 train. Court was therefore adjourned for the week. The traverse jurors were withdrawn.

The grand jury will remain in session and finish their business. The foreman will made a report next Monday.

A Genuine Tenderfoot.

"Speaking of tenderfeet," said a Weld county ranchman, "I guess we have the champion of them all up our way. He came out from Pennsylvania and bought a ranch up there a month ago. Two weeks ago he bought twenty-five head of cattle and put them in a forty acre pasture. There is running water on the ranch, but not in his forty acre pasture. A few days ago I chanced to be passing the Pennsylvania ranchman's place and saw him carrying water in buckets, mind you, and dumping it into a trough he had just inside the fence, where his cattle were. He was carrying that water from the creek. I couldn't understand what he was doing it for, so I stopped and said:

"'What are you carrying water like that for?'

"'Got to water my cattle, haven't I?' he said, setting down his two buckets.

"I suppressed a smile. 'Pretty hard work, ain't it?' I asked.

"'You bet it is,' he said.

"'Well, why don't you open your gate and drive your cattle to the water?' I asked. 'It'll take you all day to water them with those buckets.'

"A smile flitted across his face. 'By Jove!' he said, 'I hadn't thought of that scheme. I'll just do it.'

"I moved on, leaving him apparently delighted with the 'new plan' for watering cattle.

Dr. Dixon on Measles.

Having been notified that a Wilkesbarre mother had placed her child in bed with its brother, afflicted with measles, in order that the healthy one "might get the disease and be over with it," Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, State Health Commissioner says.

"I wish I could make every mother in Pennsylvania understand what a dangerous disease measles is, and more than that, I wish the mothers to appreciate the fallacy of the belief that measles is a necessary evil. There is no more need of our children having measles than their having scarlet, fever and more children die from measles, its complications and sequealae than from scarlet fever.

"We must impress upon the people that besides the danger of death, the lamentable affliction of damaged eyesight or hearing frequently follows. Tuberculosis is a frequent result, and in fact, few other diseases are apt to be followed with more serious results than the traditionally harmless measles.

THE BEST FRIENDS OF PE-RU-NA ARE THE MOTHERS AND CHILDREN

When Sickness Comes to the Little Ones

It Is the Mother Who Chiefly Suffers.

She suffers even more than the child who happens to be sick.

Her sympathy is deeper than that of any other member of the family.

The mothers look forward with dread to the torrid heat of summer, thinking of their children and the many liabilities to disease that are before them.

Spring and summer are sure to bring ailments, especially among the little folks.

It does not take a mother very long to discover that Peruna is the best friend she has in times of illness among the children.

The doctors may come and go with their different theories and constant change of remedies.

The doctor of years ago gave entirely different remedies than he does today.

Each year finds some change in his prescriptions and in the drugs he relies upon.

A Multitude of Mothers

Have discovered that Peruna is the stand-by, and that in all the ailments of spring and summer to which the children are subjected, Peruna is the remedy that will most quickly relieve.

Whether it is spring fever or stomach derangement, whether it is indigestion or bowel disease, a catarrhal congestion of the mucous surfaces is the cause.

Peruna quickly relieves this condition of the mucous membranes. Its operation is prompt, the children do not dislike to take the medicine, it has no deleterious effects in any part of the body.

It simple removes the cause of the disagreeable symptoms and restores the health.

Peruna is not a physic. Peruna is not a nervine nor a narcotic. Peruna does not produce any drug habit, however long it may be taken. Peruna is not a stimulant.

Peruna is a specific remedy for all catarrhal ailments of winter and summer, acute or chronic.

The mothers all over the United States are the best friends that Peruna has.

The Mothers Hold Pe-ru-na in High Esteem,

Not only because it has cured them of their various ailments, but because it always rescues the children from the throes and grasp of catarrhal diseases.

We have in our files bushels of testimonials from mothers whose children have been cured by Peruna. However, the large majority of mothers who use Peruna, we never hear from.

But we do hear from a great number of mothers who are so overjoyed at some special good they have received from Peruna that they cannot restrain their enthusiasm. They are anxious to share these benefits with other mothers.

The Benefit Which the Children of the United States Have Received From Pe-ru-na Can Never Be Put Into Words.

The chronic ailments it has prevented, the suffering it has mitigated, will never be fully recorded.

But at least this much can be said that the coming generation owes a great debt to Peruna, for it is in the tender years of youth that slight ailments are liable to develop into lasting disease, thus blasting the whole career of the individual.

The mothers who are bringing up their children to-day to believe in Peruna are doing a great work for humanity.

These children brought up to believe in Peruna from the start, will, when they become heads of families themselves, use Peruna with unquestioning faith.

Pe-ru-na Protects the Entire Household.

As soon as the value of Peruna is appreciated by every household, both as a preventive and cure, tens of thousands of lives will be saved, and hundreds of thousands of chronic, lingering cases of catarrh will be prevented.

Mrs. Thresa Rooke, 258 N. Ashland Ave., Chicago, Ill., Treasurer Ladies' of the Maccabees, writes:

"In our home Peruna is the only medicine we have. Grandmother, mother, father and child, all have used Peruna. It is our great remedy for catarrh of the stomach and head, colds, and female complaints of which it has cured me.

"We find it of great value when my husband becomes worn out or catches cold. A couple of doses cure him.

"If the baby has colic, or any stomach disorders, a dose or two cures her. "I consider Peruna finer than any doctor's medicine that I have ever tried, and I know that as long as we have it in the house, we will all be able to keep in good health."--Thresa Rooke.

No Doctor Required.

Mr. Edward Otto, 927 De Soto street, St. Paul, Minn., writes:

"I cannot say enough for Peruna. It has done great work in my family, especially for my oldest boy. We had doctored with three or four different doctors and they did not seem to do him any good.

"We gave up hopes of cure, and so did they, but we pulled him through on Peruna.

"We had several doctors and they said they could do no more for him so we tried Peruna as a last resort, and that did the work. Since then we keep it in the house all the time, and no doctor is required."--Edward Otto.

Pe-ru-na Contains No Narcotics.

One reason why Peruna has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotic of any kind. Peruna is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. Peruna does not produce temporary results. It is permanent in its effect.

It has no bad effect upon the system, and gradually eliminates catarrh by removing the cause of catarrh.

There are a multitude of homes where Peruna has been used off and on for twenty years.

Such a thing could not be possible if Peruna contained any drugs of a narcotic nature.

Mr. G. H. Farmer, New Martinsville, W. Va., writes:

"Our little son, Harry, is well and healthy now and we think if we do as you directed us, he will keep his health and grow strong.

"We know that our little son's life was saved by your wonderful medicine, Peruna, and we shall always praise Peruna and use it in our family when needed.

"Should we have any more catarrhal trouble in our family, we shall always write to you for treatment."—G. H. Farmer.

Mr. Howard Andrew Sterner, Muddy Creek, Pa., writes:

"I have Peruna in my house all the time and won't be without it. It is good for children when they take a cold or croup. It cured my baby boy of croup.

"I have introduced Peruna into six families since I received your last letter, and four have seen relief already."—Howard Andrew Sterner.

Pe-ru-na Should Be Kept In Every Household

Where There Are Little Children.

Peruna should be kept in the house all the time. Don't wait until the child is sick, then send to a drug store. But, have Peruna on hand—accept no substitute.

Children are especially liable to acute catarrh. Indeed, most of the affections of childhood are catarrh.

All forms of sore throat, quinsy, croup hoarseness, laryngitis, etc., are but different phases of catarrh.

Mrs. Amelia Sailer, Menasha, Wis., writes:

"I have used Peruna for a number of years. It cured me of chronic catarrh which I suffered with from infancy.

"When my three children were born they all had catarrh, but I have given them Peruna and find it very effective in ridding them of this horrible trouble. I find that it is also good to give them as a tonic and a preventative of colds and colic.

"In fact, I consider it a household blessing. I would not know how to raise my children without it. I am pleased to give it my recommendation."---Amelia Sailer.

PRESCRIPTION FOR INDIGESTION.

How Scores of Bellefonte People Obtain Relief.

If it really were known how many Bellefonte residents have been cured of stomach trouble and digestion by Dr. Davis' Prescription, it might perhaps surprise you, but what is more surprising is the fact that any one will continue to suffer with heart burn, sour stomach, water brash, sick headache, mental depression, nausea, and other distressing symptoms of dyspepsia when there is a remedy of such great merit that it almost invariably benefits every one that tries it. Pepsicola Tablets are the prescription of Dr. Davis, a physician who devoted a lifetime to the study of stomach trouble, and if your food does not agree with you, if you are tired, nervous, worn out, low spirited and your energy at low par, it may interest you to know that no other prescription in this world has a greater record of cures behind it, and there is nothing more certain to give you relief. Mr. C. M Parrish will tell you that although Pepsikola is sold on the fairest kind of a money back plan, not more than two in one hundred ever come back for their money. This is the surest evidence of its marvelous curative properties, but so that there may not be the least doubt in your mind as to what Pepsikola will do for you, Mr. Parrish will hand your quarter right back to you if you should fail to receive the benefit you look for.

The Pure Food Roll of Honor.

"Good Housekeeping," a well known household national magazine voluntarily made a thorough examination and test of None-Such Mince Meat, and placed it without reservation upon its roll of honor.

In the March number of Good Housekeeping, in the department of "Pure Food Assurance," we find

"None-Such Mince Meat, Merrill-Soule Co., Syracuse, a semi-moist condensed compound of beef, apples, spices, sugar, raisins, currants, boiled cider and salt, without other preservatives or adulterants, no artificial coloring, produced under conditions as near to sanitary perfections as possible."

This guarantee, which could not be bought at any price, ought to satisfy the most particular house-wife. The sale of one million packages a month seems to prove the statement to be true. Your grocer sells None-Such. Try it, and satisfy yourself. You are the one.

WORK THAT TELLS.

Cures that last are cures that tell.

To thoroughly known the virtues of a medicine you must investigate the cures and see if they prove permanent. Doan's Kidney Pills stand this test, and plenty of proof exists right here in Bellefonte

People who testified years ago to relief from backache' kidney and urinary disorders, now declare that relief was permanent and the cure purfect. How can any Bellefonte sufferer longer doubt the evideuce?

J. Curtis Johnson, 365 E. Bishop St., says: "I think even more of Doan's Kidney Pills now than I did in 1897 when I made a statement for publication recommending them. I had been suffering at that time for more than a year with backache and lameness through the loins. At times I was so weak that I could not lift anything and if I stooped it was almost impossible for me to straighten up. When driving there was a steady aching over my kidney the whole time. I felt dull and tired and I lacked ambition. Procuring Doan's Kidney Pills from F. P. Green's drug store I was soon cured of the whole combination of troubles and was cured very quickly. My wife has also used Doan's Kidney Pills for backache and was cured and invigorated generally as well. We both think very highly of Doan's Kidney Pills and have been recommending them ever since I gave my former statement in 1897."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. cents. Foster—Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no others.

A Chattanooga Druggist's Statement.

Robt J. Miller, Proprietor of the Read House Drug Store of Chattanooga, Tenn., writes: "There is more merit in Foley's Honey and Tar than in any other cough syrup. The calls for it multiply wonderfully and we sell more of it than all other cough syrups combined." For sale by C. M. Parrish.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

Home of Swamp-Root.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghampton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Catarrh had nearly ruined me. It had eaten away the partition in my nose; produced Asthma, Bronchitis, Rheumatism; ruined my stomach; in fact, gone all through my system. Then Grip finished me. I was a wreck; took cold at nothing; and coughed day and night. The doctors dosed me with opium and quinine. No good. Cough "cures"? Bah! Then Brazilian Balm renovated me. Killed every germ. FIRE UNDER CONTROL

Fierce Gale Sweeping Over Stricken City.

35 SHOT BY GUARDS.

As Darkness Came on Fresh Terrors Were Added and More Guards Hurried to the Scene.

FIVE BABES WERE BORN IN PARK.

Oakland, April 18.—Midnight—Fire raging unabated. Over 50,000 are homeless.

Conservative estimates place the loss so far at $250,000,000.

Oakland, Cal., April, 18.—Earth quake and fire today have caused the greatest calamity California has ever known. In San Francisco alone it is estimated that one thousand persons had perished, while as many more are suffering from injuries. The entire business portion of the city is in ruins, and the flames which, owing to the lack of water, cannot be checked except by the blowing up with dynamite of buildings in their path, are still sweeping through the city. It is utterly impossible at present to estimate the property loss for the extent of the conflagration cannot be told until the fire has burned itself out.

THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE HOMELESS.

Thousands of people are homeless and many are huddled in the parks and public squares, besides the household goods they were able to save. The city is under martial law, and all the downtown streets are patrolled by cavalry and infantry. Details of troops are also guarding the banks.

Most of the principal building have already been destroyed and others are in imminent danger. Over all the scenes of desolation hangs a dense pall of smoke.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY DEMOLISHED.

Communication with outside towns is almost entirely cut off, but the report comes from Palo Alto that all but one of the buildings of the Leland Stanford, Jr., university have been wrecked, and that the splendid memorial church, one of the finest structures of its kind in the world, is a mass of ruins. One student is known to have lost his life.

In Oakland five persons were killed, San Jose, Sacramento, Berkeley, Alamada and other places heard from suffered severely, but report no loss of life.

The dreadful earthquake shock came without warning at precisely 5:13 o'clock this morning, its motion apparently being from east to west. At first the upheaval of the earth was gradual, but in a few seconds it increased in intensity.

PEOPLE TERROR STRICKEN.

Chimneys began to fall and buildings to crack, tottering on their foundations. The people became panic stricken and rushed into the streets, most of them in their night attire. They were met by showers of falling building, bricks, cornices and walls. Many were instantly crushed to death, while others were dreadfully mangled. Those who remained indoors generally escaped with their lives, though scores were hit by detached plaster, pictures and articles thrown to the floor by the shock. It is believed that more or less loss was sustained by nearly every family in the city.

EVEN THE STEEL STRUCTURES DAMAGED.

The tall steel frame structures stood the strain better than brick buildings, few of them being badly damaged. The big eleven story Monodnock office building, in course of construction, adjoining the Palace hotel, was an exception, however, its rear wall collapsed and many cracks being made across its front. Some of the docks and freight sheds along the water front slid into the bay. Deep fissures opened in the well-in-ground near the shore and the Union ferry depot was injured. Its high tower still stands but will have to be torn down.

HANDSOME PUBLIC BUILDINGS WRECKED.

A portion of the new City Hall, which cost $7,000,000 collapsed, the roof sliding into the court yard and smaller towers tumbling down. The great dome was moved but did not fall.

The new postoffice one of the finest in the United States, was badly shattered.

The Valencia hotel, a four story wooden building, sank into the basement, a pile of splinted timbers under which were pinned many dead and dying occupants of the house. The basement was full of water and some of the helpless victims were drowned.

FIRE STILL RAGES.

San Francisco, April 19.—All efforts to check the spread of the flames at Van Ness avenue by blowing up a mile of buildings on the east side of Van Ness avenue proved futile.

The fire has spread across the broad thoroughfare, and from present indications the entire western addition, which contains the homes of San Francisco's wealthier class, is now doomed.

The destruction of the western addition of the city completes the work of the ravaging flames and marks the devastation of the entire city.

IS A CITY DESOLATE.

San Francisco, April 19.—San Francisco tonight is the city desolate. It seemed that the acme of its miser was reached at dusk, when flames burst from all sides of the beautiful hotel, Fairmont, the structure that above every other was apparently most strongly entrenched against the attack of the all-consuming fire, and surrounding that lofty pinnacle of flame, as far as the eyes could see to the south, to the east and far out to the west lay in cruel fantastic heaps, charred and smoking, all that remained of a prosperous city. The metropolis of the Pacific coast was in ashes.

DAY OF UNEVEN STRUGGLE.

This has been another day of an uneven struggle of man against unconquerable element. Acre after acre has been ground into dust and ashes, despite the heroic perseverance of the firemen to limit the conflagration.

Tonight there is a hope that the worst has been nearly reached, and that when tomorrow dawns the end will have come; but the hope is faint. If the flames can be barred from the western addition, then the end will be written to the great disaster.

PEOPLE NOT DISCOURAGED.

San Francisco is not discouraged. Its best and highest class has already begun to plan for restoration and to care for the stricken ones, and the relief will be immediate and effective. Total subscriptions of $180,000 were announced tonight.

Arrangements were made for the immediate relief of the needy. The baking of 50 000 loaves of bread daily will begin tomorrow. Free transportation will be provided by the Southern Pacific railway to destitute persons desiring to go to interior points.

San Francisco, April 20.—(1 a. m.)—It was decided Friday to blow up all the residences on the east side of Van Ness avenue, between Golden Gate avenue and Pacific, a distance of one mile. Van Ness avenue is one of the most fashionable streets of the city and it is very wide. It is hoped to check the flames at that point.

The Fairmount hotel on Nob Hill is in flames. The structure will probably not be seriously damaged, as it is as nearly fireproof as possible to make it. The hotel and land are valued at $3000,000.

Thousands upon thousands of people fled from the fire Thursday. They flocked to the terries, to the parks, to the military reservation and to the suburbs. Residents of the hillsides, in the central portion of the city seemingly were safe from the roaring furnace that was consuming the business section. They watched the towering mounds of flames and speculated as to the extent of the territory that was doomed. Suddenly there was whispered alarm up and down the long line of watchers and they hurried away to drag clothing, cooking utensils and scant provisions through the streets. From Grant avenue the procession moved westward. Men and women dragged trunks, packed huge bundles of blankets, boxes of provisions—everything. Wagons could not be hired except by paying the most extortionate rates.

PEOPLE ARE STUNNED.

But there was no panic. The people are calm, stunned. They seem not to realize the extent of the calamity. They hear that the city is destroyed in so far as business plants are concerned; they tell each other in the most natural tone that their residences were destroyed by the flames, but there is no hysteria, no outcry, no criticism.

REMARKABLE SCENE.

The Presidio reservation, the vast Richmond district of thousands of acres, Golden Gate park and the surrounding hills, resemble one vast picnic ground. Tents and improvised coverings have been erected everywhere, fire places built in the streets, beds and mattresses thrown down all over the section. The people thus situated are philosophical.

There is only one danger, and that is that the food supply will run out. Every grocery in San Francisco has been taken by the authorities and each family is being sold only one article at a time. In many places the police and military prohibit overcharging. General Funston announced Thursday morning that rations will soon reach the city and then the people will be supplied free from the Presidio. Bakeries have already been built within the reservation and the bread supply therefore has not failed completely. The Government also has begun to aid in the progress of the people of the city to Oakland; Berkerley and Alameda. Tugboats and steamers are being pressed into service for this purpose, and there is a vast army on the way to the ferries.

IN SMOKY NAKEDNESS.

From the water front the city could be seen Thursday in all its smoky nakedness. From the Pacific Mail dock to Vallejo street, on the west side, a distance of two miles, wreckage and ruin is the rule. Although the fire did not jump East street, the damage has been enormous. The filled in land lying near the Ferry building is a succession of little alleys, some four, others six feet deep. The ferry tower itself is out of plumb and the big building is much twisted by the earthquake.

Looking up Market street from the ferry building, the city is a smouldering mass of ruins. Great manufacturies, mercantile houses, banks and office buildings are nowhere to be found, and only in spots there is so much as a tower, the monument of the burned structure.

Today was bright and warm. The sun beat down on the tired workers and rescuers. There is scarcely any water to relieve the thirst of the suffering. The dead, in many instances, are lying in the streets and the ruins. The authorities are doing all in their power to remove the bodies in order that a pestilence may be prevented. It has been necessary repeatedly to move the injured from places, where they had sought refuge, for they keep increasing with alarming rapidity. Water is the incessant cry of the firemen and the people; one wants it to fight, the others to drink, but there is only a scant drinking supply.

Washington, April 21.—President Roosevelt has received a telegram from Governor Pardee of California stating that the fire in San Francisco is now under control. One half of the city has been destroyed and it is believed that further devastation may be checked.

The statements sent out from San Francisco to the effect that the entire city had been destroyed are without foundation.

THE NUMBER OF DEAD.

New York, April 20.—The San Francisco fire is now confined to Telegraph Hill. It is impossible to obtain any accurate information concerning the loss of life. The lowest estimate places the number of dead at 500 and the highest at 5,000.

THE SAD SCENE.

San Francisco, April 20.—Next to viewing the many square miles of ruins that once made San Francisco a city no better realization of the ruin that has come to this place can be gained than by visiting the refugee camps located in the districts which were untouched by the flames. Golden Gate park was the mecca of the destitute. This immense playground of the municipality has been converted into a vast mushroom city that bears striking resemblance to the fleeting towns located on the border of a government reservation about to be opened to public settlement.

The common destitution and suffering has wiped out all social, financial and racial distinctions. The man who last Tuesday was a prosperous merchant is occupying with his family a little plot of ground that adjoins the open air home of a laborer. The white man of California has forgotten his antipathy to the Asiatic race and is maintaining friendly relations with his new Chinese and Japanese neighbors. The society belle, who Tuesday night was a butterfly of fashion at the grand opera performance, was assisting some factory girl in the preparation of bumble daily meals. Money this afternoon had little value. The family who had foresight to lay in the largest stock of foodstuffs on the first day of the disaster is rated highest in the scale of wealth.

A few of the families who could secure willing expressmen are possessors of cooking stoves but over 95 per cent of the refugees are doing their cooking on little campfires made of brick and stones. Kitchen utensils that last week would have been regarded with contempt are today articles of high value.

Many of the homeless people are in possession of comfortable clothing and bed covering, but the great bulk of them are in need. The grass is their bed and their daily clothing their only protection against the penetrating fog of the ocean or the chilling dew of the morning. Fresh meat disappeared Wednesday morning and canned food and breadstuffs are the only victuals in evidence.

Not alone are the parks the places of refuge. Every large vacant lot in the safe zones has been pre-empted and even the cemeteries are crowded.

A well known young lady of social position, when asked Friday where she had spent the night, replied:

"On a grave."

Throughout the entire western portion of the Peninsular county of San Francisco refugee camps are located. The municipal safety committee has had plans for concentrating these unfortunate people in several great camps but unless they are forcibly herded together like cattle this scheme seems impossible of accomplishment.

Major McKeever, of the United States army, has been appointed commandant of the camps and with his staff of assistants was today trying to bring some sort of system and order out of the chaotic situation. His first thought is to supply food and water and then to arrange sanitary measures. These throngs of people are crowded elbow to elbow in the open fields without conveniences that are naturally demanded and are threatened with an epidemic of disease unless some wise precautions are speedily observed and the authorities even as early as Thursday had men constructing necessary out houses.

Good order and fellowship seems to prevail in these impromptu settlements and the common ruin and poverty has made all of the unfortunates akin. In the buildings close to the camps the police are storing available foodstuffs and bed clothing for convenient delivery. That there will be just andequal distribution of supplies is evident from the temper of the city administration. No distinction is drawn and only few favors shown.

The grave question is: How soon will an adequate supply of food arrive from outside points to avert famine and destitution. There is little food in San Francisco outside of what little each person possesses and this cannot last more than a few day. San Francisco is, geographically, an isolated city. Its nearest large neighbor on the south is Los Angeles, 500 miles away. To the north is Portland nearly 800 miles distant and its nearest sister in the great east is Salt Lake City, 1,000 miles away. These cities and all of the less populated nearer towns are making sacrifices for the destitute herd, but it is to the big cities of the nation that San Francisco looks with anxious eyes for relief.

The problem to-night confronting the city government and federal authorities is how to feed the multitude of destitute. Supplies are coming in by the train load, but as yet the system of distribution is not in complete working order.

At the Presidio military reservation, where probably 50,000 persons are camped, affairs are conducted with military precision. Water is plentiful and rations are dealt out all day long. The refugees stand patiently in line and there is not a murmur. This characteristic is observable all over the city. The people are brave and patient and the wonderful order preserved by them has been of great assistance.

In Golden Gate park are encamped 200,000 persons. A huge supply station has been established there and provisions are dealt out.

Many thousands are camped in vacant lots and squares scattered about the city, and these are the unfortunates that are hard to reach.

Six hundred men from the Ocean Shore railroad arrived to-night with wagons and implements to work on the sewer system. Inspectors are going from house to house, examining chimneys and issuing permits to build fires.

Chronic Bronchitis Cured.

"For ten years I had chronic bronchitis so that at times I could not speak above a whisper," writes Mr. Joseph Coffman, of Montmorenci, Ind. "I tried all remedies available, but with no success. Fortunately my employer suggested that I try Foley's Honey and Tar. Its effect was almost miraculous, and I am now cured of the disease. On my recommendation many people have used Foley's Honey and Tar, and always with satisfaction." For sale by C. M. Parrish.

A Woman's Remarkable Record.

Among all the faithful and devoted servitors of the United States government in the light house department, one of the very oldest in duration of service, until her recent resignation, was Mrs. Julia T. Williams, of Santa Barbara, Cal. Her husband became keeper of the Santa Barbara lighthouse in 1845, and when he died in 1867, Mrs. Williams took up his work and continued it until recently, when forced to resign her post on account of the infirmities of age. "Every night for 38 years," so runs the official record, Mrs. Williams climbed to the light at midnight and changed the lampe, and never was she absent from her post except to attend church on the Sabbath." Thus does a single sentence cover a life of simple, quiet, unremitting devotion to the public service in a station which, while involving many privations, and at times not a little peril, brought little reward of a purely material kind.—Leslie's Weekly.

None Fairer.

The season of beauty is here. On all sides of us nature is displaying her charms. At this season there are few fairer spots to be found than our own home town of Bellefonte. Her wooded hills are a back ground which any town can envy; her broad and shady streets; her well kept lawns and her neat substantial homes speak well for the thrift and industry of her inhabitants. There is no spot more desirable for an abiding place than this. The stranger who enters our gates must needs stop to pay tribute to the town. Where is there another spot on which nature has lavished her bounties more abundantly. There may be one or two in existence, but we doubt it. Here's to thy charms Bellefonte, may they never grow less.

Singular and Fatal Accident.

A foreigner met with a frightful accident in a barroom at Barnesboro Tuesday night. He uncorked a bottle of alcohol, when a spark of fire from a companion's pipe accidentally dropped into the bottle. An explosion followed and the man's celluloid collar and clothing took fire. He was frightfully burned before the flames were extinguished. The flesh came off in large pieces and the veins and muscles of the neck were all exposed.

Living indoors so much during the winter months creates a sort of stuffy, want of ozone condition in the blood and system generally. Clean up and get ready for spring. Take a few Early Risers. The famous little pills cleanse the liver, stomach and bowels and give the blood a chance to purify itself. The relieve headache, sallow complexion, ect.

are caused by Indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of Indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart.

Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

Kodol
Dyspepsia Cure

digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. Cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the Stomach and Digestive Tract, Nervous Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach.

After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.
MRS. LORING NICHOLS, Penn Yan, N. Y.

I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me.

THE CALAMITY ON THE PACIFIC COAST

The appalling news from the Pacific Coast has sent a shudder of horror throughout the civilized world.

This lattest evidence of that mysterious subterranean wrath that causes the earth to tremble, that shakes down in piles of ruin all the costly work of man, destroying human lives by the thousands and transforming gardens spots into scenesof dreadful desolation, will probably go on record as the crowning disaster of modern history.

These convulsions of nature have been more than ordinarily manifest in recent years. The devastation in the West Indies a few years ago has not been forgotten. The demonstration of the awful power of Mount Pelee on the island of Martinique, and the obliteration of the populous city of St. Pierre, was for a time looked upon as the limit of volcanic fury But the seismic shocks did not cease. There were periods of quietude, followed occasionally by disturbances more or less severe, along the line of the earthquake belt that is supposed to girdle the world. These vibration have been widely separated and in remote regions.

Vesuvius, that historic crater in Italy, has just ceased a period of remarkakle and destructive activity involving millions of loss and the sacrifice of hundreds of lives. While this great eruption was in progess the world looked on in amazement and wonderment, during which the regions immediately affected were in alarm and panic. But Vesuvius became quiet and the passing gaze of the world turned in other directions.

Then the startling news in flashed broadcast that the Pacific coast has been shaken that San Francisco, the western metropolis of the United States, is practically destroyed, and that numerous other cities and towns have suffered more or less severely. It may require several days before the full extent of the disaster can be known because the lines of communication and of traffic have been interrupted. It is evident, however, from the stories told in our news columns, that the calamity cannot be exaggerated. In San Francisco fire followed the earthquake and transformed the piles of wreckage into smoking heapes of ashes. A great city—the principle port and chief mart on the western coast of the United States—is in the twinkling an eye almost wiped out of existence, thousands of people slain and property worth hundreds of millions destroyed.

The attention of this great nation is rivetted to the awful scene. The people gaze in awe and horror, and wonder at this tremendous destructive force of Nature. No man can tell where or when the next manifestation will occur. No section of the world can rest assured of security. What has occurred in one place may occur in another place as past events plainly show.

The sympathy, and if needed, the financial aid of the nation will be freely extended to the survivors of San Francisco and her suffering sister cities. Already President Roosevelt and the government authorities have taken the matter up, and all that is necessary will be the word and the nation will respond as never before.

Complied With Rules.

In accordance with the party rules, I hereby publish and certify the following persons have complied with the rules regulating announcements and registration in Centre county, and that they and they only are eligible to be voted for, for the offices named, viz:

For the office of Member of Legislature: C. T. Fryberger, Philipsburg, Pa. John A. Daley, Curtin township, Pa.

For Centre county instructions for Congress: Hon. John G. Love, Bellefonte, Pa.

For Centre county instructions for Senate: Hon P. E. Womelsdorf, Philipsburg, Pa. Henry C. Quigley, Bellefonte, Pa.

Very respectfully,
HENRY C. QUIGLEY,
Chairman Republican Co. Com.

Very Smart

These new, dainty French Miniatures are quite the proper thing at present, three dollars a dozen at The Mallory Studio, Crider's Exchange.

To Whom It May Concern.

While standing on the sands of time,
I write for you this little rhyme;
Come, make the church a level plain,
Where rich and poor meet all the same.
Where ere we look in church or State,
Religion seems to be a fake;
No smile to greet a heart thats sore,
Long waiting just outside the door.
Deacons for gain, works Bunyons rake,
Forgets his vows until took late;
Lost, Lost forever lost he cries,
That offered mansion in the skies.
Women dressed in tucks and gores,
Keep the poor outside the doors;
Her voice takes on a southern twang,
Sits where the long icicles hang.
Forsake your gods and worship He who healedthe sick and calmed the sea;
Fed thousands with five loaves of bread,
Yet had not where to lay his head.
If love dwelt in the church below,
Love, festivals would overthrow;
Then love itself would open wide,
The hearts of many yet outside.
Throw open wide Gods temple door,
Do not obstruct the way no more;
God offers life to poor and rich,
And to the drunkards in the ditch.
And now dear friends your faith renew,
Make flowers bloom where thistles grew.
Angels will look from heaven above,
And sing a song that God is love.

W. T. SPEER.

A Missionary Grieved.

TO THE REPUBLICAN:—

A missionary, coming back to his native land, was thoughtful and sad because of the low tone of morals among the young men, many of those he had associated with in youth, gone down into the drunkard's grave, and very few at present who seemed to be living to purpose. Striken down after a brief illness, on his dying bed, he appealed to Gen. Beaver to 'save the young men." This was in 1869 and that very year the Young Men's Christian Association was started, It has never been supported as it deserved, partly because some conscientiously believed it was not needed, more from indifference. But it has had a life, though a feeble, intermittent one, and today is ready for serious work, finely equipped by many generous givers, and hallowed by precious associations.

Is it needed? Where are the boys and young men? There are very many in our town, soon to take their places as citizens and leaders, at an age when lasting impressions are made, they might be influenced away by the many demoralizing attractions surrounding them and the nets spread for their feet and led to care for things that would prove a lasting benefit

The tone of morals is very much higher today than it was when christian young men first banded together in Bellefonte and yet there is room. This interdenominational work must appeal to all of our people and every individual should be given an opportunity to help in so good a cause "In His Name."

BASE BALL FRIDAY

Academy Defeats Williamsport High School by the Score of 5 to 2.

Great interest was manifested in the ball game in Bellefonte Friday afternoon. Fully 200 fans were present at Meadow Brook Park to cheer the boys on to victory and this they did royally. It was "Rah, Rip, Root, Watch the bee-liner, Biff, Woop, who made that grandstand play. Look at Otto's fake, Rah, Rah, the pitcher has a glass arm." The whole game and when after the 9th and the final score had been announced, Bedlam broke forth.

We must compliment the whole Williamsport team on the game they put up and their gameness. Wyckoff, their pitcher was there with the goods but was not backed up with a good infield. On the whole they put a good game, so the rooters didn't kick.

The boys on the hill were in fine condition and they certainly put up a snappy game. It seemed all that Jacobs could throw were strikes and when backed by such in and outfield as we have, we do not wonder that Williamsport did not get near us.

In the first inning Wyckoff, Dugan, Pott retired on short notice. Then Mosser knocked a first base pop and was afterwards put out while trying to steal to second. Stochr walked on ball, Driver pops to first with Stochr on second, then Maize retires but on a bad catch, Stochr scores and then Renton strikes out.

In the second Crooks, Troxell and Himes all knock pops but are all caught by the splendid fielding of Driver, Mosser and Pantall. Though the Academy boys do a lot of hitting in this part of the game only Pantall scores putting the score to 2-0.

In the third Wyckoff and Hartman score, tieing it. The Academy boys go out 1—2—3 order. In the fourth Williamsport went out 1—2—3. Then Riddle and Otto score pushing the Academy ahead 2 points. In the fifth the only thing interesting was when Jacobs purposely lets Heninger walk around to 3rd and then does the undertaker act. In the sixth Jacobs scores pushing the score to 5—2. Everything moved smoothly till the ninth when Wyckoff got to third but was put out by a very clever fake of Otto's. After this everything went like clock work and the ninth ended with a victory for the Academy by a score of 5 to 2.

Naming the Baby.

It is reported to this office that local registrars of vital statistic insist that the baby must be named immediately upon its birth. This is an error. The rules of the health commissioner, who is the head of the health department under which the registrars work, have made special provision for naming the baby. The birth must be reported, regardless as to whether the infant has been named, and according to the commissioner's rule the name may be given to the registrar at a later date. The parents have the privilege of naming the baby at their leisure.

Whisky Medicine.

The temperance press is emphasizing the danger to the home in the use of "medicines" which are loaded with whiskey or alcohol. In this respect, as well as in the remarkable character of their cures. Dr. Pierce's medicines differ from other preparation. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and "Favorite Prescription" contain no alcohol, whiskey or other intoxicant, and are equally free from opium, cocaine and other narcotics.

Every family should have a copy of the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, sent absoutely free, on receipt of stamps to pay for mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper cover, or 31 stamps for cloth binding. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, New York.

Just a Word

To the baking member of your family. We want you to try Our Best Flour, give it a good, long severe test, and it will prove itself just a little better than the others, its a home product of wonderfully honest qualities, and that is another reason why it deserves your recognition. FIRST CARRIAGE IN MAINE.

How a Minister Came to Buy It and Why He Sold It.

The Rev. Francis Winter was a native of Boston and a graduate of Harvard college. He went to Bath early in 1767 and, after preaching on probation for the orthodox church, was invited to settle, which invitation he accepted. He was ordained in the autumn of the same year. He went to Bath on horseback in company with Lemuel Standish. Mr. Winter came from Boston, where he had associated with such eminent men as Adams, Otis and Warren, himself becoming an ardent patriot, taking the lead in the Revolutionary measures adopted in Bath during that memorable period.

Mr. Winter married Miss Abigail Alden in 1768, and it is through her that the Winters of today trace their ancestry back to the "Puritan Maiden of Plymouth."

Three years after the marriage of the Rev. Francis Winter and Abigail Alden they started to visit a sister of Mrs. Winter living in Connecticut and intended to ride all the way on horseback, but Mrs. Winter became so fatigued that Mr. Winter sold one of the horses for a carriage and harness. It was the first carriage that ever came into Maine and was called a chaise. Traveling was so difficult that two negroes were employed to accompany them with shovels and axes to clear the road. Several times the chaise had to be taken apart and lifted over fallen trees. The minister's parishioners thought that it was putting on too much style for their pastor to ride in a carriage, and in consequence Mr. Winter sold it. This was in 1771. It was a two wheeled chaise, the body resting on leather braces, which were attached to wooden springs.—Lewiston Journal.

A DAZZLING EFFECT.

Old Time Illumination With Lanterns and Candles.

In these days of electric lights, with all their capabilities for brilliant illumination, it is amusing to read what the subjects of George II. considered a dazzling effect. A Frenchman visiting in London at the time of the coronation of that monarch in 1727 writes enthusiastically in praise of the lighting of the city as well as of a banquet display.

"Most of the streets," writes M. Saussure, "are wonderfully well lighted. In front of each house hangs a lantern, or large globe of glass, inside of which is placed a lamp which burns all night. Large houses have two of these suspended outside the doors by iron supports. Some even have four."

How one arc light would have dazzled the good people of that day!

"When the coronation procession entered Westminster hall," the writer continues, "the light of day was beginning to fade. Forty chandeliers, in shape like a crown, hung from the ceiling, each having thirty-six wax candles.

"On the king's appearance all suddenly lighted, and every one in the room was filled with astonishment at the wonderful and unexpected illumination. Little cords of cotton wool, imperceptible to the eye, saturated with sulphur of saltpeter, spirits of wine and other ingredients, had been prepared and arranged so as to carry the flame rapidly from one candle to another. The arrangement had been so skillfully prepared that scarcely a candle failed to take fire."

For Dosing Oneself.

A physician recommends rochelle salts for amateur doctoring. He says that it is an excellent thing, several times a day, to take as much of the salts as may be put on a cent in a little water. That will sweeten the stomach and act as a very desirable spring medicine. He also speaks highly of soda, having no patience with those timid people who have an idea that it is a dangerous dose, doing some vague harm to the coating of the intestines.

"Why, everything we eat, almost, has soda in it," he cried in disdain. "It is an admirable thing to take half rochelle salts and half bicarbonate of soda, as directed, several times a day. I know of few gentler and still more beneficent general medicines."

The Pepper Vine.

The pepper vine grows best in a wooded valley where there is plenty of moisture and abundant foliage to protect it from the heat of the sun. It is given a rude sort of cultivation. The growers plant it, keeping the grass from its roots, and when the tree near which it is planted has no lower branches strings or poles are placed in proper position to enable the vine to climb the tree. It needs no further attention.

Sarcastic.

"Yes, my dear; I believe in transmigration of souls. I may be a brute in my next life."

"Wouldn't that be discouraging—or don't you care for a change?"—Houston Post.

In Plain Words.

"What," asked the judge, "was the cause of the altercation?"

"I didn't see anny, yer honor, but it was him callin' me a liar that shtarted the fight."—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Bengal canal, 900 miles in length, is the longest artificial water course in the world.

SOURCES OF MEDICINES.

What Various Drugs Look Like In Their Crude State.

Upon going into a pharmacy and looking over the mysterious jars and bottles and boxes that line the shelves did you ever wonder where on earth all of the drugs came from and how they appeared before they were ground up and made into oils or dried or pulverized or crystallized into queer shaped lumps? Each jar and box seems to hide some secret which you immediately become curious to solve. How many different lands do they represent? And after they leave the jars that hold them now what are they made into?

Who, for example, would connect a great pile of dry, thin twigs neatly tied into small bundles with sarsaparilla? These twigs are the creeping roots and rootlets of a prickly shrub that grows in Jamaica, and they are worth from 10 cents to 50 cents a pound.

Somewhat similar in appearance is ipecacuanha, which also comes to us in dry twigs, which are part of the trailing root of a plant found in the damp forests of Brazil.

These roots receive no preparation save drying before they are shipped off to the United States. They are packed in large sacks, and the workmen who open the bales must beware of breathing the pungent, irritating dust given off and which is productive of unpleasant results if incautiously inhaled.

Castor oil, too, is hard to recognize in the pretty little brown beans spotted with black and with polished skins that arrive in bags from India. They look far too attractive to suggest the much hated dose of our early days.

Aloes, the base of many nauseous medicines, may be seen in its crude form as a solid mass resembling brown sealing wax, packed in heavy wooden boxes, from which it is chipped out in flakes with a chisel and hammer.

It is of different qualities and prices, according to whether it comes from Arabia, Socotra or the West Indies, and may bring any sum from $4 to $45 per hundredweight. Aloes is the juice of the big fleshy leaves of the plant of that name. This juice is pressed or evaporated from the leaves and poured into chests or kegs in a semi-fluid state, hardening presently into a solid block. Not infrequently it is inclosed in the dry skins of monkeys and in this strange form brought to market.

One of the most interesting of drugs is opium, both on account of its awful potency and by reason of its great value. A case of opium, about 225 pounds, is worth $400, roughly. The case is of rough deal, lined with tin, and contains a number of soft, dark lumps, like large handfuls of dough, packed very closely together in a quantity of dry, chaffy seeds.

The opium which reaches America is of two qualities, one for medicine, the other for smoking, and comes from Persia and Asia Minor, China and India.

Another costly and all important drug is quinine, which arrives in its crude form as large slices of bark, packed either flat or in "quills"—that is, curled round upon itself like a roll. —Philadelphia North American.

DESPERATE HEROISM.

An Incident of the Indian Fighting Days In Illinois.

The desperate intrepidity and warlike heroism of the early settlers of Illinois are illustrated by an incident narrated in "Historic Illinois." The early days were a time of hardship, danger and death. Every forest covert, every tuft of prairie grass, might hide some skulking red enemy. Among the early frontiersmen was a Captain Whiteside, whose name became a terror among the Kickapoos.

A party of fourteen white men led by Whiteside made an attack upon an encampment of Indians of greatly superior force. Only one Indian escaped. During the heat of the skirmish Captain Whiteside was severely wounded, he thought mortally, having received a shot in the side.

As he fell he called to his sons to keep on fighting and not to yield an inch of ground or permit the savages to touch his body. Uel Whiteside, who had also been shot in the arm, so that he could no longer use his rifle, hastily examined his father's wound, discovering that the bullet had glanced along the ribs and lodged against the spine.

With that daring and disregard for pain so often characteristic of border men he immediately whipped out his knife, gashed the skin, extracted the ball and held it up, crying:

"You're not dead yet, father!"

The old man leaped to his feet, renewed the fight and bore his full part to the end. Many such instances of heroism distinguished the men who in those days of peril were called upon to defend the frontiers of Illinois.

The Word "Expire."

"Expire" in its literal sense is breathing out. Inspiration and expiration together constitute respiration. Izaak Walton observed that "if the inspiring or expiring organ of any animal be stopt it suddenly dies." The Romans spoke of "breathing out" the breath of life instead of "dying," by way of euphemism, just as they said "Vixit" (he has lived) instead of "he is dead." In all languages the reluctance frankly to say "dead" or "die" appears; hence such words and phrases as "pass away," "decease," "demise," "the departed," "defunct," "the late," "no more," "if anything should happen to me."

—"I suffered habitually from constipation, Doan's Regulet's relieved and strengthened the bowels, so that they have been regular ever since."—A. D. Davis, grocer, Sulphur Springs, Tex.

A GENEROUS CRITIC.

Story of John Oxenford, a Once Famous London Character.

John Oxenford was for years the leading theatrical critic of London. Mr. Oxenford was troubled with a serious bronchial affection, which occasionally disturbed the audience, for he refused to give up his beloved theater, although desperately ill. A certain rising young actor was very anxious to obtain Oxenford's valuable opinion on his work, and the tender hearted old gentleman literally left his bed and came down to the theater on a bitter cold night to do a good action to a clever youngster. In the middle of one of the actor's finest scenes on came the cough from the Oxenford box. It continued so long that it unnerved the actor, and he came to a dead stop. To the surprise of everybody he advanced to the front and said, "Ladies and gentlemen, I am sorry to say that unless the old gentleman with the irritating cough retires temporarily from the theater I really cannot go on. I forget everything. It is painful so to address you, but I am powerless in the matter and place myself in your hands."

The disturbance at once ceased, and the box was empty. When the curtain fell a friend rushed around and, breathless, said to the distressed actor: "Do you know what you have done? Do you know who it was that you turned out of the box?" "I neither know nor care," was the reply. "Why, it was John Oxenford!" The actor was paralyzed, but he got his good notice all the same. The veteran critic went home coughing to praise the young actor who had turned him out.

Time and Eternity.

The stream of time never runs dry, and the ocean of eternity will forever send its mighty surges mountain high against the bank of time's little stream, sweeping with each receding billow over its expansive bosom the frail human craft from the shore of time, with earth's happiness, human affection, toil, trials, tears and sin, to the eternal shore of celestial beauty and bliss. Oh, mighty ocean of eternity, your wonderful anthem of life and death brings eternal woe and condemnation to him who is untrue to himself and his divine pilot, but to the trusting, faithful man it sings of endless felicity in the presence of time who has redeemed his people from the bondage of sin and has swept them through the pearly gates.—Ducktown (Tenn.) Gazette.

The Wonderful Diatom.

One of the most wonderful things in vegetable life is a beautiful and minute class of seaweeds called diatoms. They belong to the seaweed family, yet they may be found by the thousands in any roadside ditch, fresh or salt water lake or even in cisterns, wells, springs, etc. Most species of plants are made up of an infinite number of little cells, but with the diatom it is otherwise. Each representative of this wonderful family of plants is formed of but a single cell and this so minute that it would require 2,500 of the most common form, laid end to end, to make a string an inch in length. Some species of diatoms have the power of independent motion, and on that account were for some time believed to be animals.

Candy and the Flag.

The following is accredited to the late Senator Hoar: At a Fourth of July celebration in a Canadian town where both English and American guests were assembled the flags of the two countries were used in decorations. A frivolous young English girl, loyal to the queen, but with no love for the stars and stripes, exclaimed: "Oh, what a silly looking thing the American flag is! It suggests nothing but checkerberry candy." "Yes," replied Senator Hoar, "the kind of candy that has made everybody sick who ever tried to lick it."

Charity.

Charity is a universal duty which it is in every man's power sometimes to practice, since every degree of assistance given to another upon proper motives is an act of charity, and there is scarcely any man in such a state of imbecility as that he may not, on some occasions, benefit his neighbor.—Johnson.

His Advantage.

First Man—How do you do? Second Man—Beg pardon, but you have the advantage of me. First Man—Yes; I guess I have. We were engaged to the same girl, but you married her.

The Bright Spots.

No man knows his strength or his weakness till occasion proves them. If there be some thoughts and actions of his life from the memory of which a man shrinks with shame, surely there are some which he may be proud to own and remember—forgiven injuries, conquered temptations (now and then) and difficulties vanquished by endurance.

A Common Delusion.

One of the commonest of delusions and one of the fatalest is where a man thinks he's in a hurry.

For Over Sixty Years.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over sixty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cure wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Sold by all druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" and take no other kind.

ANY FOOL

Knows enough to carry an umbrella when it rains, but the wise one is he who carries one when it is only cloudy.

Any man will send for a doctor when he gets bed-fast, but the wiser one is he who adopts proper precautionary, preventive and curative measures when first appear the ills which, if unchecked and uncured, grow into serious illness.

Impaired digestion and nutrition are generally the forerunners of a nervous or functional break-down.

Nature has provided remedies most abundantly for all such conditions in our native medicinal plants. With the use of chemically pure glycerine, of proper strength and at a proper sustained temperature, Dr. Pierce extracts from Golden Seal root, Queen's root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Bloodroot and Mandrake root, medicinal principles which, when combined in just the right proportions, constitute his widely famed "Golden Medical Discovery." It restores the tone of the stomach, the activity of the liver and the steadiness of the nerves, pouring vitality into the blood till the once sick and debilitated one is so renewed in health, strength and power that he can resume his work, whatever it is, with vigor and elasticity.

All medical authorities, of whatever school, agree that Hydrastis, or Golden Seal—one of the essential roots in the make-up of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—is of very great value as a pure tonic, and as an alterative—valuable in chronic affections of the stomach, intestines and bladder.

Pierce's Pleasant Pellets Not only the Original but the best Little Liver Pills, first put up over 40 years ago, by old Dr. R. V. Pierce, have been much imitated but never equaled, as thousands attest. They're purely vegetable, being made up of concentrated and refined medicinal principles, extracted from the roots of American plants. Do not gripe. One or two for stomach corrective, three or four for cathartic.

RELIEF FOR EARTHQUAKE SUFFERS.

Pennsylvania Railroad Will Transport Supplies Free of Charge.

The great western metropolis of San Francisco has been visited by the greatest calamity of modern times and the people of that city now stand in need of the very necessities of life. The whole country is responding splendidly to their appeal for aid and Bellefonte has a chance to do her part in helping this suffering people.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has come forward very promptly and is transporting over its lines free of charge all freight consigned to the relief of the earthquake suffers.

Freight Agent John I. Potter received an official order this morning which reads as follows:

"As it has been arrange to transport to Chicago, Chicago Junction, East St. Louis, Cincinnatti or other connections with Trans-Continental lines such freight as offers for the relief of the earthquake sufferers in San Francisco, California, if consigned to the Chairman of Relief committee or to civic authorities will you please see that such material is handled accordingly, and refer on your way bills to this letter as authority for such action.

In view of the above, Bellefonte surely ought to be able to raise a car load or two of supplies for the needy people of the Pacific coast. All you have to do is to take your offering to the depot and it will be loaded and shipped free of charge. Who will start the good work?

For a Happy Life.

Three ounces are necessary first of patience.

Then of repose and peace of conscience a pound is needful.

Of pastimes of all sorts too should be gathered as much as the hand can hold.

Of pleasant memory and of hope three good drams.

There must be at least, but they should moistened be

With a liquor made from true pleasures which rejoice the heart.

Then of love's magic drops a few—

But use them sparingly, for they may bring a flame.

Which naught but tears can drown.

Grind the whole and mix therewith of merriment an ounce.

To liven; yet all this may not bring happiness,

Except in your orisons you lift your voice

To Him Who holds the gift of Health.
—Boston Budget.

The Curfew Law.

The curfew law is again being agitated. No doubt the curfew law, if enforced, would be a good thing, but if there was such a law, it would be evaded like a number of other laws, equally important. The child labor law and the compulsory school law for instance. Then again there are a number of city and borough ordinances that are being violated every day. Take the bicycle ordinance right in our own town. There is not a day passes that some one is not seen riding the sidewalk, yet if arrested and fined, the officers are not only censured by the violators, but by a number of the citizens of the town. There is not an ordinance on the books of this Borough that is strictly enforced. It would be the same with the curfew ordinance. The boys and girls would be allowed to walk the streets just the same. We believe in good laws, but we also believe they are no good unless enforced.

Tossed Coin to Decide Case.

The court at Sunbury Thursday considered the application of a Herndonite for a wholesale liquor license. So complex were the circumstances, and so many were the reasons advanced in favor of the application that Judge Savidge finally proposed to leave the decision to chance. He flipped a coin with the attorney for the petitioner, John Quincy Adams, Esq., of Shamokin, and the lawyer won. But further complications ensued, for Judge Auten refused his consent, and the applicant is yet unsatisfied.

Do Your Part.

Nature has donned her verbal robes and the eye is gladdened by the bright scene. Let the people do their share in seconding nature in assisting her work—in assisting her to send out a cheering pleasant view. The fifth of the winter needs to be removed. Back yards and front yards needs to be attended to. A little effort in this direction will give not only yourselves but your neighbors who pass your premises the prospect of cleanliness and sweetness during the whole summer. INSPECTION OF COMPANY B.

Soldier Boys Undergo Rigid Examination By State Officers.

The Armory of Co. B, was brilliantly illuminated Wednesday night. The occasion being a general inspection of that organization by Maj. Jefferies, of Pittsburg, inspecting officer of 2nd Brigade N. G. P. Col. Rufus C. Elder, of Lewistown, Colonel of the 5th Regt. and Lieut. Krom of the U. S. Army was also present.

At this inspection every thing relating to the Company is carefully gone over, the property belonging to the state must be produced or be accounted for.

Capt. H. S. Taylor had all the accoutrements and paraphernalia arranged in convenient order for the inspecting officer every thing was in perfect condition.

In the evening the boys were all on hand early with their uniforms looking like new, their shoes polished up to the highest degree, and each wearing white gloves, for it was now their turn to appear for inspection, they realized that if their shoe strings were not properly tied, or their collar buttons too much exposed they would be called to account by the argus eyed inspecting officer.

At half past seven Capt. Taylor and his two lieutenants, Garbrick and Gettig, formed the company in line and put them through their paces, to limber them up. The boys made a fine appearance and in marching or going through the manual of arms, did so with precision worthy of regulars. By this time all the available space in the armory was occupied by ladies and gentlemen who were there to witness the drill.

A few minutes before eight o'clock Maj. Jeffries, Col. Rufus Elder and Lieut. Krome arrived, they were accompanied by Major R. G. H. Hayes, Lieut. M. J. Locke, Col. E. R. Chambers and Col. W. Fred Reynolds.

The first in order was the inspection of guns, Maj. Jeffries taking each gun and apparently making a minute examination of its every part, looking stern and wise while doing so, Of course they found no defects, nor did they expect to. They know that Capt. Taylor and his officers are soldiers enough to see that the guns are in order, but they were here to inspect and had to go through the ceremony in order to comply with the government requirements.

After this Capt. Taylor marched the Company around the Armory, putting them through all manner of difficult manoeuvers, the boys responding promptly to every command, there was not a mistake, every turn and twist being done promptly and with precision. Nothing could excel their perfection in the manuel of arms, every gun moved at the same instant and looking down the line it seemed as if there was but one man instead of fifty.

At 10 o'clock the Company was dismissed and the visitors were loud in their praise of the appearance and high qualifications of Company B. Coleville band was present and furnished the music.

RUNAWAY.

Thomas Beaver's Bay Team Collides With Cold Spring Milk Wagon.

At 7:10 Friday morning the people of the South Ward of Bellefonte were furnished with another death dealing thrill, in which Thomas Beaver's large Bay Team played a very active part. These horses had been hauling a heavy stone and where just passing the Nittany furnace when the stone began to slid down along the truck. The driver consequently stopped the team and with the aid of a crowbar, tried to slid the stone back to its former position. This must have disconcerted the horses as they immediately took a notion to run off and carried the notion out with a vengeance.

When the horses first started off, both the driver and the stone were instantly thrown off the truck. Now, that they were their own masters and had the bits between their teeth they began a chase that will long be remembered by one witnessing it. Coming along Water street they collided with the Cold Spring Milk Wagon and completely upset it. Right behind this milk wagon was Shivery's Dairy Wagon and this would have probably been run down next had not Andrew Shivery son of D. H. Shivery the milkman, the presence of mind to quickly get out of the way and then stop the runaways.

Flinging away self safety and regardless of discretion he made flying leaps and caught the bridle of one of the horses and then hung on. This sudden load caused one of the horses to fall on its face over the tongue of the wagon. This completely stopped them, but while raising the fallen horse, the side board of the truck fell over the other horse which also caused it to fall. When both where raised it was found that the horses were badly cut and bruised, and the harness in tatters.

Poultry Column.

Hen's nests should be renewed several times during the season. When boxes are employed they should be thoroughly cleaned out and white-washed and fresh material supplied for nests. Sometimes this matter is neglected and the eggs are laid in filthy nests, sickness and diseases, to say nothing of vermin, are thus engendered. Fine hay or straw make good nests, some poulterers prefer fine, thin shavings, sprinkling them with a dilution of carbolic acid, which is an excellent preventive of vermin and the shavings being porous retain the odor of the acid longer than hay or straw.

Bone meal and crushed shells may be used generously in feeding fowls, that is, if the crushed oyster shells and granulated bones are mixed and placed in a box inside the hen-house, where the birds can have access to these articles freely, they will eat of them no more than they need. Fowls devour no more of the oyster shell particles than they naturally require to assist digestion and to help forming the shells of eggs.

Lime is one of the greatest cleansers and purifiers known to poultrymen, and they could illy afford to do without it even for a single season, for there is nothing which could take its place and perform its work so successfully. Imagine the bad and unwholesome odors, which would effect the fowls, causing them to droop and become sickly, if it were not for the purifying and cleansing effects of the lime which should be liberally spread (first being air-slacked,) over the floors of hen houses. White wash all buildings where the hens have access. It not only beautify's the wood work but gives strength to the fowls:

A breeder of poultry says "Every spring I procure a quantity of cedar boughs and scatter them plentifully in and around the hen house. The odor of the cedar keeps away lice, this remedy is cheap, simple, and effective and is well worth trying."

Baby Born With Heart Outside.

New York, April 20th.—A remarkable phenomenon which is interesting the doctors of Newark as well as the physicians from this city and Philadelphia who viewed it was that of a child born in Newark with its heart on the outside of the body. It was the fourth child of Mrs. Charles Held of 157 Camden street, born on Sunday. It lived for several hours with the misplaced heart performing its functions the same as if it had been on the inside.

PIANO RECITAL.

A Musical Treat Furnish by the Pupils of Miss Marie Walsh.

Wednesday afternoon a very interesting Piano Recital was given by the pupils of Miss Marie Walsh at her home on East High street. Quite a gathering of the relatives and friends of the young performers were present and all were unanimous in their opinions that the little ones certainly played creditably to their teacher, who has at present a class of 22 pupils.

Mud.

Congressman Longworth, at a dinner told a story about mud.

"An American in Liverpool, waiting for a boat home," he said, "ate his last dinner on foreign soil with an Englishman.

"The Englishman complained of the mud in America. He told a number of tall stories about the execrable roads of America, and the scrapes they had gotten him into, both walking and driving.

"At the end of a particularly tall story of this kind, the American said:

"'Yes, we have a lot of mud in America: I admit it. It is nothing to the mud over here, though.

"'Nonsense,' said the Englishman.

"'Fact,' the American replied. 'Why, this afternoon, on a walk out Chester way, I had a remarkable adventure—came near getting into trouble with an old gentleman — all through your accursed mud.

"'Some of the streets are a little greasy at this season, I admit,' said the Englishman. 'What was your adventure, though?'

"'Well,' said the American, 'as I was walking along Bold street, I noticed that the mud was thick, and presently I saw a high hat afloat on a large puddle of rich ooze.

"'Thinking to do someone a kindness, I gave the hat a poke with my stick, when an old gentleman looked up from beneath, surprised and frowning.'

"'Hello,' I said, 'you're in pretty deep.'

"'Deeper than you think,' he said. 'I'm on the top of an omnibus.'"

Clears the Complexion.

Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup stimulates the liver and thoroughly cleanses the system and clears the complexion of pimples and blotches. Carl Hagenbeck Great Shows at Lock Haven.

Cheap round trip excursion rates will be made to Lock Haven on Friday May 4, when the Carl Hagenbeck Greater Shows exhibit for one day only in that city, giving afternoon and night performances. There seems to be a considerable amount of local interest in the near appearance of these shows for the word has become general that they are quite out of the general run of tented exhibitions and totally unlike anything ever seen before.

The Hagenbeck original trained wild beasts exhibition in its entirety is given in huge steel arenas as a third part of these all-embracing shows. The wizard of the animal world has augmented this department with sensational new groups dissimilar to anything heretofore presented and far more wonderful than any of his previous triumphs. The most complete collection of rare animals forms the biggest portable zoo in the world. The parade is opulent and brilliant and sensationally attractive with its many open dens of animals. Surely here is enough to make for a glorious and gladsome holiday. The performances will be given daily at 2 and 8 P. M., the doors opening one hour earlier for study of the menagerie and Hindoo colony.

—Local items will be always welcome.

—Quite a number of Bellefonte girls attended the Senior's dance at the College Friday night.

—The Adams Express company will carry free of charges supplies for the destitute of San Francisco.

—The four young foxes on exhibition in the window of The Potter-Hoy Hardware Co., are attracting as much attention as a small circus.

—Expert marble polishers are at work this week on the beautiful marble Altar in St. John's Catholic church putting it in the proper trim.

—We are indebted to W. Harrison Walker, Esq. one of our County's ablest attorneys for the full and complete report of court published in this issue.

—State College Friday easily defeated Lebanon Valley College team by the score of 19 to 5.

—Miss Mary Showers and Raymond Jenkin were the lucky winners of the five dollar gold pieces offered by the D. A. R. for the best essay on Revolutionary subjects.

—The Reformed church cleared between $25 and $30 dollars at the "Mrs. Wiggs in the Cabbage patch" social given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jenkins's Friday night.

—The Doll's soda fountain was put in commission Saturday night with Claire Seibert in charge. As the local correspondent had a sweet tooth, he reports that the soda's are tip-top.

—Cheap John, the street merchant made his regular quarterly stop in Bellefonte Thursday night. John has been coming here for the last twenty years, and never fails to receive a hearty welcome.

—The State College base ball team was defeated by the Johnstown Tri-State nine Saturday, at Johnstown by the score of 4 to 2. McIlveen pitched a great game for State, and had the "Out-laws" guessing.

—Mr. Daniel S. Brown of Lock Haven, Pa., and Miss Anna E. Oshale of Lancaster, Pa., were united in marriage at the U. B. parsonage at Bellefonte, Wednesday evening April 18th. 1906, By Rev. A. Davidson.

—A Pittsburg woman, by the terms of her will, had her furs buried with her. She must have had serene faith that her future home would be in the cold storage department that Dante dreamed of.

—Don't fail to buy a ticket for the supper this evening, to be given by the ladies of the Methodist church in the lecture room of their church on Howard street. The proceeds are to be used in refurnishing the parsonage. Go and help the ladies along.

—For the last few days the art loving class of our people were treated with the rare opportunity of viewing the superb showing of hand painted china exhibited by Mrs. Anna Pickard Atkins at Krumrine's Drug Store. This display was exquisite and was labeled A. No. 1.

—Among the new court rules which have gone into effect in Luzerne county is one providing that a deposit of $50 must be made with the prothonotary by any person who wishes to sue for divorce. The institution of proceedings is conditioned upon this payment.

—While riding down Bishop street Mr. John Olewine, one of Bellefonte's prominent hardware men lost control of his automobile and narrowly missed running into the windows of Gephart's Music Store. This accident was only averted by running into the buggy of John Meese another of Bellefonte's prominent business men and completely demolishing it.

—A farewell reception was tendered Rev. Richardson in the Episcopal church Tuesday evening, at which a large crowd was present. Rev. Richardson has been filling the pulpit in the Episcopal church since the resignation of Rev. George I. Browne. As a token of the high regard in which the reverend gentleman is held he was made the recipient of a purse containing one hundred dollars.

—Harry Temple, aged about 12 years, step-son of Abner Rider, died Thursday morning at the Bellefonte hospital, the result of injuries sustained Wednesday evening while playing with some old car trucks along the railroad at the Humes Quarries.

—The Hahpt Brothers have received the contract from the builders of the Soldiers Monument to pave the ground within the curbing around the monument with granolithic concrete. This is something new in this vicinity and is said to be very handsome when finished.

—The wedding of Miss Elizabeth Brown and Dennis Collins was celebrated in St. John's Catholic church Thursday morning at 7 o'clock, Rev. P. McArdle officiating. The bridal party was accompanied to the marriage altar by John Howley as best man and Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, the bride's mother, as matron of honor.

—A farce three-act comedy by Edwin Darnley, "Facing the Music," will be presented by the Penna. State College Thespians on Friday, April 27, at Garman's opera house. The College orchestra will accompany the club and the College quartet will be a happy addition. The comedy had an all winter run in New York city, which speaks well for the cleverness of the play. We predict a great success in this presentation and no one should miss it. The work of the College Dramatic club for the past few years has been very clever. The play is given for the benefit of the Bellefonte hospital and is under the auspices of the Bellefonte Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

—Mr. and Mrs. John J. Bower of East Linn street are rejoicing over the arrival of a bouncing baby boy. Accept congratulations.

—Next year's session of the Central Pennsylvania Methodist Episcopal conference will be held in Tyrone, the five presiding elders having decided unanimously to accept the invitation of the First church of that place, which entertained the conference this year. Tyrone Methodists will thus break all records as conference hosts, entertaining the distinguished body two years in succession.

Burns—Taylor.

Mr. Robert C. Burns of Johnstown and Miss Elizabeth Taylor both estimable young people were united in marriage Wednesday morning, at 10 o'clock at the home of the brides mother Mrs. Hugh S. Taylor Sr., on Howard street; Rev. William Laurie former pastor of the Presbyterian church, tied the nuptial knot.

After the ceremony a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served to the bridal party and a few intimate friends of the family. The bride was the recipent of a number of useful and valuable presents which attest to the high esteem in which she is held by a large number of friends.

The groom is a printer by occupation and is employed on the Johnstown Democrat, while the bride, a dressmaker by profession, is a very estimable young lady and is popular with a host of friends, whose best wishes she has for a bright future.

Mr. and Mrs. Burns left on the afternoon train for a wedding tour of eastern cities after which they will go to housekeeping at Johnstown.

Cannot Use Carnegie Schools as Beer Ads.

Andrew Carnegie will not allow breweries to use his name or the name of his schools to advertise special brews of liquor.

If he cannot stop it in any other way he will change the name of his $10,000,000 technical schools in Pittsburg, and copyright the new name, to get away from the beer man. William McConway, his personal representative, in Pittsburg, has declared war on a brewery which is advertising a new brand, known as "Tech beer."

Mr. McConway has adopted a novel plan of campaign. Each of the 840 students in the schools is to write a letter, and each get 10 friends to write letters to the brewing company, asking it to cease using the name.

These letters will go in plain envelopes, and the company will have to open them all, for fear of losing an order. Huge sign boards are being erected in Pittsburg, bearing the Carnegie plaid, the school colors and the legend "Tech beer." Similar signs are on the cars.

A Cabbage Story.

One of the most important industries in Greenspring, Ohio, is a Kraut factory erected by some of the moneyed men of that community, and among the stockholders and cabbage growers is Albert Hessick, formerly of Potter township. Mr. Hessick owns and conducts a fine farm near Greenspring, and being convinced as to the advantages of a Kraut factory in his neighborhood took a good block of stock and began raising cabbage on an extensive scale. Last season he raised one hundred and sixty tons of cabbage, which he sold at the rate of $13 per ton, or $2,080.

The total amount purchased at this factory was 5,156 tons, or 10,312,000 pound. Of this amount there was cut into kraut 5,825,500 pounds, making 225 car loads. Aside from this 148 car loads of cabbage were loaded direct from the farmers' wagons and shipped to various markets.

The price received during last season was very good, the lowest being $4 per ton, and the highest $13.

A Meeting of the High School Alumni.

At a meeting of the Bellefonte High School Alumni association held Wednesday, it was decided to hold the reception to the graduating class on Tuesday evening, June 5th, of commencement week in the armory. The following committee was appointed to make the necessary arrangements:

Hon. P. E. Womelsdorf of Philipsburg, one of the Republican candidates for the Republican nomination for Senator, was circulating among his friends in Bellefonte Monday night.

Wm. Burchfield, one of Philipsburg's most prosperous merchants, left on the 1:05 train Tuesday for home. He was one of the jurors drawn for this week's court. Billy is a good fellow and we are always glad to see him in Bellefonte.

Royal
Baking Powder
Absolutely Pure

Made from Pure Grape Cream of Tartar

In baking powder Royal is the standard, the powder of highest reputation; found by the United States Government tests of greatest strength and purity.

It renders the food more healthful and palatable and is most economical in practical use.

Housekeepers are sometimes importuned to buy alum powders because they are "cheap." Yet some of the cheapest made powders are sold to consumers at the highest price.

Housekeepers should stop and think. Is it not better to buy the Royal and take no chances—the powder whose goodness and honesty are never questioned?

Is it economy to spoil your digestion by an alum-phosphate or other adultered powder to save a few pennies?

BELLEFONTE WILL AID SAN FRANCISCO SUFFERERS.

Send in Your Contributions Promptly so That the Great Work of Relief May go on.

The manner in which the people of the United States are responding to the call for aid from stricken San Francisco is a beautiful tribute to the sympathetic, great American heart. Bellefonte has made no organized effort as yet, but the time is here now and we call for your contributions. Let them be what they may; large or small. No sum will be too small and the few pennies that some of you might have to give will express the same feeling of willingness to help as the dollars of others.

On Saturday the following telegram was received by the Centre County Banking Co. It explains itself:

PHILADELPHIA, Pa, Apr. 21st,
Centre County Banking Co.,
Bellefonte, Pa.

Will your bank receive subscriptions for San Francisco relief on behalf of the Pennsylvania Branch American National Red Cross, transmitting same to Mrs. A. J. Cassatt, treasurer, 5th and Chestnut Sts. Philadelphia. If so please notify your local papers for publication Sunday and Monday morning, after sending list of your subscribers. Publish lists daily in your local papers. Please wire your consent to Joseph A. Stennitz secretary.

The bank promptly wired Philadelphia that it would act as the depository and subscrptions can be made at this office or any of the other newspaper offices or banks in the town, a list will be kept and published daily. Now let Bellefonte take its proper place among the towns that are helping in the relief of the thousands who have lost their all. Send in your names promptly as this work must be done at once.
